The aim of the program is to train medical technicians who perform medical analyses in laboratories. Graduates of this program can work in the Ministry of Health, public and private health institutions and organizations, universities, forensic institutes and organizations performing medical research in institutes and organizations, medical laboratories, laboratories of pharmaceutical and medical companies as medical analysts. They can also work as representatives in private laboratories and organizations, in research centers and pharmaceutical companies. They can also work as educational and research assistants in universities. The program became one of the most popular professions.

MEDICAL LABORATORY TECHNIQUES PROGRAM

The program is to train medical technicians who perform medical analyses in laboratories. Graduates of this program can work in the Ministry of Health, public and private health institutions and organizations, universities, forensic institutes and organizations performing medical research in institutes and organizations, medical laboratories, laboratories of pharmaceutical and medical companies as medical analysts. They can also work as representatives in private laboratories and organizations, in research centers and pharmaceutical companies. They can also work as educational and research assistants in universities. The program became one of the most popular professions.
Emergency and Disaster Management Program

The aim of the program is to train managers who are able to take preventive measures, respond to disasters and manage damage in various fields such as industrial disasters, natural risks, terrorism, accidents, accidents, etc. The program aims to provide education in all aspects of disaster management, from prevention to preparedness, mitigation, and response. Graduates can work in different sectors, such as government, non-profit organizations, and private companies.

Pharmacy Services Program

The aim of the Pharmacy Services Program is to train pharmacists who can work in various fields, such as hospitals, pharmacies, and community health centers. Graduates can work as pharmacists, pharmacy managers, and pharmacy technicians. They can also work in research and development, quality control, and education.

Biomedical Device Technology Program

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of medical devices. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and medical device companies. They can work in the design, development, and production of medical devices.

Electroneurophysiology Program

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of electromyography and electroencephalography. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and research institutions. They can work in the diagnosis and treatment of neurological and muscular diseases.

Dental Prosthetic Technology Program

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of dental prosthetics. Graduates can work in dental laboratories, dental clinics, and private dental practices. They can work in the design, manufacture, and repair of dental prostheses.

Optician Program

The aim of the program is to train opticians who can work in the field of optics. Graduates can work in optical stores, pharmacies, and hospitals. They can work in the design, manufacture, and repair of optical devices.

Orthopaedic Prosthetics and Orthotics Program

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of orthopaedic prosthetics and orthotics. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and orthopaedic centers. They can work in the design, manufacture, and repair of orthopaedic prostheses and orthotics.

Vocational School of Health Services

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of health services. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and health centers. They can work in the provision of health services, such as nutrition, physical therapy, and rehabilitation.

Physiotherapy Program

The aim of the program is to train physiotherapists who can work in the field of physiotherapy. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and rehabilitation centers. They can work in the treatment of physical disabilities, such as injuries and chronic pain.

Emergency and First Aid Program

The aim of the program is to train technicians who can work in the field of emergency and first aid. Graduates can work in hospitals, clinics, and emergency services. They can work in the provision of emergency and first aid services, such as basic life support and advanced life support.